

COMMUNICATIONS & MARKETING CONSENT FORM

Because of amendments to the 1990 Telephone Consumer Protection Act adopted by the FCC in July 2003, businesses must receive WRITTEN CONSENT from customers, prospective customers, and even other businesses PRIOR to sending fax communications.

These new FCC amendments are designed to limit unwanted “junk” faxes. Unfortunately, many legitimate uses of such faxes are being severely limited. Previously, establishment of “prior business relationships”—like Association membership—between fax senders and receivers was sufficient proof that such faxes would be accepted. This will no longer be the case—active consent from the receiver will be necessary before faxes can be sent.

If you would like to receive faxed communications from the Association, please print out this form and send the completed, signed form to OMEDA. You may send the completed form by mail or fax.
